Code of Conduct

The Outlet Outdoorsman's Club believes and practices a style of life that has a respect for nature in all its forms. As a member or a participant in any function that is associated through the Club, you must follow this Code of Conduct.

1. Respect each journey into the wilderness, farm lands or any other part of nature in a "guest-like" attitude. You are the guest. Act in accordance.
2. Leave the area of your visit as if you were not there at all. Leave no trash or disarray of the property.
3. Respect each other's boundaries; give another hunter or angler room enough that you don't interfere with their experience.
4. Help each other. Help each other to remember the code and give assistance when prompted.
5. Stay safe; follow the guidelines and regulations provided by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

I hereby promise to follow the Outlet Outdoorsman's Club Code of Conduct in all my nature visits and comply with the Ohio Department of Natural Resource guidelines and regulations. all
